

Sponsorship Information

We're excited to announce that the agronomy-focused 2021 Crop Intelligence Annual Summit will offer an in-person event and virtual content!

The in-person event will kick off with a keynote session and mixer the evening of November 30, followed by a full day of sessions on December 1. The recorded virtual content will be available on December 8.

Our conference attendees are progressive, technology and data-driven farmers and agronomists from across Western Canada. Last year's in-person event had over 330 attendees. This year, we expect a total of 350 attendees.

We hope to see you and your colleagues at the event to share, learn and grow together.
